Maury Burgwin, President, Mon Yough Chamber of Commerce

Maury Burgwin came to the chamber in 2010 from the Institute for Management Studies, an executive training organization with offices in 24 international cities, including Pittsburgh. It wasn't an auspicious time to join what was then called the "Regional Chamber Alliance."

He built scenery for Broadway stage shows and sold bonds to major investors, and he worked closely with the late John Connelly as the founder of the Gateway Clipper Fleet and opened riverboat casinos in Iowa, Missouri and Mississippi.

President Burgwin has rebuilt and grown the membership of the Mon Yough Chamber of Commerce. Burgwin says he pitches prospective members on the idea that the chamber is both an advocacy group and a way for business owners to meet --- and do business with --- other business owners.
